You take ownership of your professional development.

You bring valuable perspective and resource to your engagements.

How you see yourself and how you engage others influence and impact the quality of your interactions.

Women in Transformation is grounded in rigorous, experiential learning that provokes you to :

Step outside of what's comfortable

Reflect on who you are

Assess your power

Examine your impact

Intentionally re-align your image and communication style

Initiate change and take action

...in the context of being a woman,
