

Join the Western Campus Community Police Service

Western Campus Police is looking for an enthusiastic, professional and dedicated Investigative Staff Sergeant to join its campus policing team.

The position is a tremendous opportunity for an officer with at least five years of supervisory experience, interested in contributing to the safety and security of students, staff and faculty within our diverse University community.

The successful applicant will be responsible for supervising sergeants and special constables, and have expertise in conducting investigations while providing expert guidance for all incidents of reporting. The Investigative Staff Sergeant will also provide professional support in relation to Western's Sexual Violence Policy.

Western is proud to offer a competitive and comprehensive total compensation package, including health and dental insurance, tuition and retirement benefits as well as entitlements for professional growth, vacation and seasonal time-off.

Interested? Visit Western Campus Police website for more information and Working at Western to apply.

NOTE: The Investigative Staff Sergeant position will remain open until filled.
